City of Boston IN CITY COUNCIL

BOSTON CITY COUNCILLORS CHARLES C. YANCEY AND CHUCK TURNER

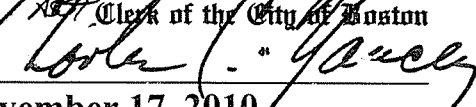

PRIME MINISTER DAVID JOHN HOWARD THOMPSON

- WHEREAS: David John Howard Thompson was sworn in as Prime Minister of Barbados on 16 January, 2008, becoming Barbados' sixth prime minister and the third to serve under the Democratic Labour Party; and
- WHEREAS: Thompson served as Prime Minister until his death from pancreatic cancer on 23 October 2010; and
- WHEREAS: Thompson was born in London to Charles Thompson, an Afro-Barbadian porter and painter, and Margaret Knight, a White Barbadian secretary and nurse; and
- WHEREAS: Thompson graduated with honors from the University of the West Indies law school in 1984. He was admitted to the Barbados bar in 1984 and taught as a part-time tutor in law at the University of the West Indies from 1986 to 1988; and
- WHEREAS: Thompson served as Minister of Community Development and Culture from 1991 to 1993. From 1992 to 1993, he was switched to the Ministry of Finance as Minister of State, and between 1993 and 1994 he assumed full responsibility for that Ministry in which he became responsibility for restructuring the sugar industry and the offshore sector, monitoring the government's successful stabilisation programme with the International Monetary Fund and the structural adjustment programme that was implemented in 1993; and
- WHEREAS: Thompson also served as General Secretary of the Democratic Labour Party from 1987 to 1994; and
- WHEREAS: Thompson was married to Marie-Josephine Mara, who was born in Saint Lucia. The couple had three daughters: Misha, Oya and Osa-Marie; and
- WHEREAS: Thompson died at his home in Mapps, St. Philip, on 23 October 2010 with his wife and daughters by his side; Be It Therefore
- RESOLVED: That the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, remembers Prime Minister David John Howard Thompson for his commitment to improving the quality of living of all Barbadians and the people of the Caribbean.
